Take a short drive southeast of Warner Robins and you will easily find UTGC. This is a gem and a fun course out in the country. Designed by Herb Green and opened in 1969 it has the feel of a piece of land a group of farmers and locals decided would be the perfect spot for their own golf course. While it is not a championship level golf course it has a lot of great contours and elevation changes that offers the player a good enough challenge. The fairways are wide enough to not penalize the less than accurate players yet there are a lot of great tree lined fairways.

For an easy get away, short drive, it is a great course to visit with no hassle and a very relaxed atmosphere. Head on down during the week and it is likely you won't even need a tee time. Weekends however we would suggest you call ahead and schedule your round. While we visited we did see the staff installing a new practice bunker so it is clear they are not satisfied with everything they already have. Improving the player experience is clearly important for this facility so pick up the phone and get your time today. Tee It Up GA!!

The future of golf entertainment sure has arrived in central GA. Golf is a game that can be played in many forms on the golf course. Family time, outdoor enjoyment, friends out for a competitive round and of course tournament golf. None of these are the same kind of game or experience. As golf demand is rising and the industry, PGA professionals and teachers of the game are always working to find more ways to get people into the game.

In 1997 TopGolf was formed by a couple of golf enthusiasts looking for a new project to take on. All they did was simply reimagine what a driving range could be. They developed the idea of using a range for entertainment and now 28 years later it is a booming business with some locations experiencing up to a 3 hour wait time to get into a bay. The ability to offer golf at a low expense, no equipment or experience needed with a lot of fun, quickly became one of the most popular entertainment places around the USA.

While TopGolf is great it is also a massive and expensive facility. So, many have been working on the “neighborhood” version. Now we have had golf simulator facilities for at least the last 30 years. In the beginning the technology was not great. The ability to set up amazing indoor bays was limited and expensive. Most of the first versions failed or didn’t have a high usage except for thin the winters up north where some of these golfers simply didn’t have any other choices. As technology has advanced and popularity has grown, we have now found ourselves with an explosion of these types of facilities opening across the country. There are some larger cities that have them on almost every other block like your local Starbucks. The best part is the technology is great, and the expense has declined a lot to make it feasible to build them and open them up to the public.

Here in Warner Robins the Hurless family has done just that. About 1 year ago they brought us The Golf Pub. It is the first golf simulator entertainment venue in the central Georgia area. One of the 3 owners experienced this type of venue while stationed with the Navy in Southern California. His dream and the Hurless family dream were born based on his experience. They wanted to bring this amazing entertainment to our little part of the world here in Houston County.

After one year of business, they have received an incredible amount of feedback and praise for bringing this venue to our community. The neighborhood version of TopGolf is available to everyone here to experience a new version of golf. You can schedule time online, come to the facility with no experience or equipment. Have fun watching sports on tv and enjoying a beverage all while playing some golf on any course from around the world. The simulation technology is amazing and so is the entertainment you get when you enjoy your time at www.thegolfpub.com.

PLAY BETTER GOLF, DEVELOP YOUR GAME

by Ryan Carpenter

If you have 3 different players who are aiming 3 different directions yet they all 3 hit the same slice then how do we know what is the correct way to help them all? Launch monitor data alone will not provide us enough information to adequately determine what the root causes are for each player. In fact each player would have very different swing types even though the ball flight looks identical. In order to get to the core reasons for this we have to identify each player and conduct a comprehensive evaluation of each. This evaluation includes a player interview, video and biomechanic motion measurement plus launch monitor data all combined to deliver the information the player needs to know what is the cause and how to fix it. I have a custom process in place that I provide each player that can guarantee we will identify these issues and how to fix them. Sign up for your evaluation lesson today to get started.

JUNIOR GOLF CORNER

OPERATION 36[®] GOLF

It's spring and we have a great start to the season with a lot of opportunity for Junior Golfers to get out and start playing. Some of the local favorite programs are Operation 36, the PGA Junior Golf League and the Junior Camps that will be coming up this spring. Operation is not only great for youngsters but also for beginners of any age. Golf can be difficult and we want it to be fun!

Starting the game from 25 yards out first is more manageable than trying to tackle a 6000+ yard golf course. As players learn a few basics and begin to advance they pass with a score of 4 on each hole for 9 holes and move to the next test. 50 yards is next, then 100, and so on. As these players advance they get to spend time with other players of similar skills which makes it a lot of fun! Be sure to contact the golf shop at Houston Lake CC or you can also play Operation 36 at The Golf Pub. These are two great ways to get juniors and beginners into golf right away without a ton of frustration!

GOLF TECH 2025

Here we are again with a large array of new equipment for 2025. As my students will tell you it is more about the person using the tool than the tool itself, I will agree as always. You control more about output than the tool. However we can always find better fits for players and/or upgrades from tools of the past. There is not a lot new but once again Callaway and PING have the top 2 drivers headed into the spring. Are they worth $600+ .. that is a difficult question to answer. A proper clubfitting considering the player's swing is needed to actually answer this question. While machine testing and then player testing can help the reality is until you have it in your hands tested properly there is really no way to know. And if you are inconsistent there really is no way to measure it correctly. Enjoy MGS article on all the new drivers here:
